

"NO-LEGGED" MAN A "BOOTLEGGER"

And Is Convicted In Federal Court—
Theft Of Sweater Soldier Sent
By Mail Is Charged

The question of whether Mrs. Lilly White, a young white woman stole a sweater out of a mail box, which Geo. Reed, a colored soldier, was sending to his wife, at the home of Mrs. Robinson in the Hubble section of Lincoln county occupied most of the attention of the Federal court today.

The white woman denies the charge and is being defended by Attorney C. C. Bagby, of Danville. The prosecution introduced a number of witnesses including prominent white people of the Hubble section. A sweater was offered in court, but not identified as the one that Reed sent to his wife. The claim of the prosecution is that the sweaters were "switched." Reed, husband of the complaining witness, has been employed by the Interior Journal at Stanford for many years and is one of the best and most reliable colored boys the writer ever knew.

Fred Hadden, a railroader, of Ravenna, was acquitted on a charge of stealing seven pounds of butter from a railroad car at that point. He had taken the butter out of the car when as he said, he found it loose in the car and wrapped it in his jacket and put it on the porch, waiting till after it stopped raining to take it back. He was arrested, however on a theft charge.

The grand jury ignored a charge of uttering seditious statements against Fred Schnitzler, a well known citizen of the Otseheim section of Lincoln county. Schnitzler has a son fighting for Uncle Sam stationed at Coblenz, Germany now, and has been a liberal buyer of Liberty Bonds it is said.

Sol Brackett, of Lexington, was acquitted at his trial upon a charge of selling morphine.

Charles Booth, a "no-legged" man, of Mercer county, was convicted of bootlegging and will be sentenced later.

HUN SYMPATHIZERS SEND BOMBS BY MAIL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 1—Bulletin—The postmaster at Salisbury, North Carolina, today telegraphed the Postoffice Department that a package containing a bomb similar to those found in New York, was received there addressed to Senator Overman. The postmaster is holding the package. As Acting Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Senator Overman had charge of the espionage act and many other measures dealing with law enforcement during the war. He is also chairman of the special Senate committee investigating pro-German and other radical propaganda.

In holding up packages to Senator Overman, the postmaster at Salisbury acted according to orders issued last night to all members of the postal service to make every effort to prevent the delivery of suspicious mail matter. It is said here the package bore Gimble Bros. mailing label and every way resembled those discovered in New York. Reports from every section of the country indicated that a thorough search is still being made of mails for other bombs. A close watch is kept here on all official mail. The belief is expressed, however, that practically the whole anarchistic output has been located.

EASTERN WINS FROM BEREA VOCATIONAL

One of the best base ball games of the season was played on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The base ball team of the Vocational Department of Berea College furnished the opposition for the Normal School. The final score was 3 to 2, and the game was just as close and interesting from the first until the last man was out.

Haze and Clark did the battery work for Berea. Fox and Compton did the job for the local team. Berea scored in the third inning after Combs hit safely, stole second, when a long fly to right was not handled, an error being charged to the right fielder. Berea's second score was made in the fifth inning when Wilson, their second baseman, lifted a long fly to right field, which bounced through the glass window into the music studio in the University building. Wilson was credited with a home run. His playing at second base, his hitting and base running were easily the features of Berea's play.

In the fourth inning after Holdcraft was out trying to steal second, Compton hit to center field for three bases. McDougle doubled to center, scoring Compton. Clark, Berea's pitcher, caught McDougle off second with the entire Berea infield on the base line. McDougle outwitted them and was safe at third base, when the ball went on a try for him at that base. He hit the Trosper singled, stole second and came home on an over-throw. After this no more scoring was done.

TEAMS OFF FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL DRIVE

The teams of the various churches of the city are in action in the big Sunday school drive which has for its object the bringing next Sunday of every member of the churches into the schools. Captains of various districts are receiving daily reports of their workers and are checking the pledges for attendance that have been made. A pledge tag is being put upon every one who pledges to be present. The teams are going after not only members of the church but those who may be affiliated with no church and all that are in reach. The goals set by the various churches equal the total of the membership and it is confidently expected that the big drive will carry every church over interesting programs with special music are being arranged and teachers are being instructed to bring to their work that day the best possible preparation. The church buildings are being arranged so as to take care of the proposed increase in attendance.

The captains are urging their workers to pledge every possible person whether adult or child and to report daily the number of pledges made. The rural sections will be reached by telephone where it is not possible for team workers to get in personal touch with them.

CONFERENCE GROW- ING IN INTEREST

The Conference for Education at the Eastern Normal school is getting well under way and more superintendents are coming in to join in the discussion of the many problems that confront the educators of the state. Fourteen superintendents arrived Tuesday. Fifty-two counties of the Eastern District are now represented at the conference. Enthusiasm, keen interest and a willingness to co-operate prevail at the meetings, and the educators assembled for the purpose of finding out what is best for their respective counties and communities and getting a great mutual benefit from the discussion.

The program this year is entirely new and different from what it has been in previous years. It has been drawn up along the lines of the reconstruction, with the aim in view of the betterment of the public school system by unity and service. Many good things have been said and done at the conference. The plans and hopes of the school teacher of today must embody the very highest intellectual ideals in order to do the best and nobler work that is transmitted to the nation that is and those that are yet to be.

President Coates in an appeal to the teachers and superintendents present finely illustrated this when he said: "If nothing else will do, the far-off patter of the millions of little feet of teachers come down the road of life, ought to challenge the very best that is in you."

The meeting opened Wednesday afternoon with an address by Dr. Raymond of Berea College, who ably represented President Frost. Dr. Raymond discussed the "Problems in the Education of People in the Appalachian Highlands." The address was well received and enjoyed by all.

Prof. J. C. Lewis, of Wesleyan College, was next on the program. Prof. Lewis is a big man with big ideas. He is a strong believer in the unification of the educational forces of the state and says he can not see why the teachers should not organize themselves into a union and by such unity and organization compel recognition from those who have formerly only lightly considered the needs of the teacher and education. This splendid address was well received.

Superintendent Samuel W. Walker, of Whitley County, in the next address said many things that will be found helpful by his fellow superintendents and educators.

The subject of an eight months rural school term was discussed by Miss Virginia Luten, of Fulton county. Mrs. Mary Bradley, of Franklin county, and Superintendent Jones, of Harlan county. They all expressed themselves in favor of a longer school term made a longer term.

The evening session opened with the invocation conducted by Superintendent L. D. Stocker, of Franklin county. The duet by Miss Marjann Noland and Superintendent J. W. Ireland was exceptionally fine. They were encored and responded with another song, equally beautifully and pleasing.

The main address of the evening was that of Dr. A. J. Kinneman, Dean of the Western Kentucky State Normal School at Bowling Green. He took as his subject "Community Organization With the Schools as the Intellectual, Industrial, Social Center." Dean Kinneman's influence over his audience can not be described. He held attention to the last, taking his hearers back to his own little community up in Indiana and showing how it had developed both socially, intellectually, and industrially. He spoke the simplicity of life in that community in its development. Nothing is more important than pure, wholesome social relationship he said.

At the evening session of the Conference for Education one of Kentucky's brilliant orators will address the assembled educators on the subject, "Mutual benefit in urbanization of county and ruralization of town." John Howard Payne, Superintendent of Schools, Midway, Ky., always brings a message to his audience.

Sidney W. Landon, character impersonator and entertainer, has been engaged for this evening. Mr. Landon has been before the Lyceum public for years and is one of the most sought entertainers on the platform. The Normal School was fortunate in securing Mr. Landon for this occasion. There will be no charge and the public is cordially invited.

WHIPPET TANKS SEEN BY THOUSANDS

Captain Van De Boe Delivers Splendid Address To Dense Crowd—Scouts
Sell Large Amount Bonds

The streets of Richmond were a dense throng of human beings when the whippet tank which is touring the country in the interest of the Victory Loan made its appearance promptly at 11 o'clock a. m.

The machine itself is a wonderful piece of mechanism, and after one has seen it, the wonderful warfare tales of its accomplishments are more easily believed. The tank is of the Renault model, weighing six tons, and is driven by Sergeant Goodrich. The party who accompany the tank is composed of Captain and Mrs. VanDeBoe, Lieutenant Gravoan, Sergeant Goodrich, and Private Townley. Within the last two days they have visited Mt. Vernon, where Capt. VanDeBoe made a splendid address, after which $16,000 worth of bonds were sold. At Crab Orchard yesterday, the town was crowded with people who came in to see the wonderful sight, and after a few remarks in the interest of the drive $20,600 was subscribed.

The people of Richmond were delighted with the address given by Capt. VanDeBoe, and with Chairman Glass at the head of the Scout boys, subscription cards were signed right and left as the boys hustled through the crowds.

The tank left for Irvine today at noon, and if the roads will permit, the tank will make the trip through the country, with a speed of six miles to the hour.

In all, it was a wonderful day for Richmond, and the youngsters as well as the grownups, scrambled over one another trying to see every detail of this modern warfare device.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Dr. Elmer Northcutt, of Lexington, father of Mrs. F. E. Chase, of this city have leases covering from 12,000 to 14,000 acres in Menifee county and Dr. Northcutt is sanguine of the discovery of a pool in that county being long. For years both oil and gas have come to the surface in various parts of Menifee and it is the theory of Dr. Northcutt that if the drill goes deep enough a profitable pool of oil will be struck.

Miss Katherine Tobin, Mrs. Donald Dunstall, and Lieut. Zack Thomson motored over from Frankfort yesterday and were guests of friends here for the day.

John J. McClintock, 70 years old, died at his home in Paris following an illness of two years. For 36 years Mr. McClintock was connected with the Agricultural Bank of Paris, and for a greater portion of the time was cashier.

Mr. Clifton Weaver returned from Falmouth Wednesday, and is quite sick at his home on North street, his friends will regret to hear.

WHEN TO GATHER ROOTS AND HERBS.

For medicinal purposes, roots and herbs should be gathered when their medicinal properties are at their best. For an instance, roots of annual plants should be dug just before their flowering season, and roots of biennial or perennial plants after the tops have dried. All these things are taken into consideration in gathering the roots and herbs, many tons of which are used annually in preparing that most successful of all remedies for woman's ills, Lydia E. Pinkman's Vegetable Compound.
